Village Primary School's New Wooden Windows

We installed this village primary school's new wooden windows in just four days with a total of five windows being installed.

The school originally contacted us, requesting that we provide a quotation for new uPVC windows along with other contractors. Our quotation was very competitive in comparision with the three other contractors.

Wooden Windows

Even though the school wasn't in a conservation area, the head teacher requested that we provide an additional, alternative quotation for wooden framed windows. This was to maintain the original look and character of the building which was originally constructed in 1848. Again, our quotation was favourable and the school gave us the go ahead for new wooden framed windows.

Each of the new bespoke, handmade wooden window were painted white before installation.

Stone Lintels

When the windows were inspected, during the initial site survey, we noticed that some of the stone lintels above the windows were cracking. This would only become more of a problem in time. We recommended that the stone lintels be repaired before the window installation. We employed the services of a stone specialist to repair the stone lintels which meant that the new windows could be installed safely.
