New Home Improvement Works

The main element of the new home improvement works were the redecoration of a lounge and dining room. This included the chasing out and running of electrics and supply leads to their large flat screen T.V. The property over time had suffered from cracking to the ceilings. This was made good and, once painted, the repairs blended in perfectly. Upstairs, two en-suite's benefited with the installation of new high quality showers. Additionally the tiles were re-grouted and a new silicone seal applied.

The couple were extremely pleased with the results. They are looking forward to starting work on other rooms in their home in the near future.
