We were approached by a main contractor to supply Bone Shaped glass cut from 6.4mm laminated safety glass. This was a challenge for our glass cutters, but through experience and after a few hours they had been cut to the supplied template sizes.

The project also included internal Screens to offices which were also glazed in safety glass and high level screens supplied in a 6mm Heat Soaked Toughened Glass as required by the architect (to prevent any thermal breakages).

The client was extremely pleased with the finished product and have said that they would be happy to use on future projects.
