School Office Conversion

This school office conversion works involved converting a small changing room into an office. This was to utilise an area no longer fit for purpose. We infilled the current opening between the area and the adjacent toilet block and formed an new entrance door for the office. Additionally, a new internal cupboard was constructed around the existing water cylinder. New electrical sockets and data points were also installed to suit the new office layout. The final works included carpeting and decoratining the office throughout.
