School Canopy Adaption

The academy was concerned that the existing canopy, at the front of the school building, was too high. Due to the height of the canopy, wind and rain could easily blow underneath and make the area unusable.- Initially they requested that we submit a quotation to supply and install a new, lower, canopy which we were happy to do. On reflection, we believed that we could save the school a large amount of money by adjusting the existing canopy by reducing the height. We suggested this to the school and explained that by lowering the current canopy they would save money and the results would be just as effective. When the works were completed the area was much more enclosed making it more weatherproof. The school canopy adaption was an ideal solution.
