School Hall Refurbishment

The school hall refurbishment at this infant school was unblievable. The works carried out to the school hall resulted in a complete transformation that you really need to see to believe. The original parque flooring had been polished so many times, over the years, that a build up had formed hiding the natural beauty of the timber. We removed the wax and then sanded the whole floor. A finish coat was then applied which will protect the floor and enhances the look which will last for many years to come.

To complete the project, the hall was given a makeover by painting the walls and woodwork with, vibrant new colours.
