New School Cafe

Kemsley Primary Academy approached us asking if we could transform an old storage building into a new school cafe. This was a unique school project for us and we welcomed the challenge. We started by completely stripping the old store back to its shell. The next step was to run services from the main school building which would enable us to install a sink, electrical sockets and lighting.

As the project progressed, the building started to take shape. Windows were installed to allow natural light into the building. A new work top and units where installed as well as the new sink. The cafe was completely decorated to finish the look.

The school then added appliances ranging from a coffee machine to a crushed ice drinks machine which will provide customers plenty of options. The final result was a fantastic little cafe. Both the school and ourselves were extremely happy with the finished article.
