Victorian House Conversion

We carried out this Victorian house conversion in Margate. The client's brief for this project was to convert a large Victorian property. Three spacious flats was the goal. We installed high quality specification kitchens and bathroom suites to each property. The project consisted of major structural works. We alter the internal layout and external envelope including the demolition and re-construction of the rear extension.This was in to increase the size of the living space to the ground floor property. Additionally the installation of steel beams were added within the ground and first floor properties. We also carried out further external repairs to main structure. This included the installation of new uPVC windows and doors. We also re-pointing and repaired cracks to the brickwork. Additionally we carried out improvement works to the rear garden.

We took possession of the site in November, 2007 and concluded works in July, 2008.
